

Acute Liver Failure Study Group (ALFSG) Registry

Project Name: A Multi-Center Trial to Study Acute Liver Failure (ALF) and Acute Liver Injury (ALI) in Adults

Project Description: To collect clinical and epidemiological data as well as serum, plasma, urine, tissue and DNA samples on individuals who have acute liver failure and on individuals who have acute liver injury, a less severe group of patients who have coagulopathy but do not reach the threshold of encephalopathy

Project Period Sep. 2009 – Aug. 2011

Funding Source: National Institute of Health / National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive And Kidney Diseases (NIH / NIDDK) Grant Number?

Principal Investigators: William M. Lee, M.D., PI
University of Texas - Southwestern Medical Center at Dallas

Valerie Durkalski, Ph.D., Co-PI
DCU Director, Associate Professor of Biostatistics and Epidemiology
Medical University of South Carolina

Description of DCU Responsibilities: DCU services include IS infrastructure, the complete data management and data analysis for this multicenter study involving 2000+ participants enrolled from approximately 20 clinical centers in the United States.